

Jeffrey Adams

From: direx@charter.net
Sent: Thursday, July 22, 2021 8:54 PM
To: Jeffrey Adams
Subject: Parking and Traffic

Jeff-

The solution to the parking problem in Cannon Beach is that there is no solution. Diane and I got our feet wet here in 1977 just as Breakers Point had finally been required to build fewer units than they had originally designed. Since then, the so-called "village" has slowly been Carmelized because the Chamber of Commerce and member merchants have been so successful in advertising the city as a "must see" by the sea. Wealthy folks have bought up most of the available property and we are now faced with the obvious fact that minimum wage workers cannot afford housing, so they have to drive from other areas to do the work no one else wants to do. This adds to traffic and parking problems, as do those citizens who have to drive to town to get their mail. The tourists trapped in traffic will never stop coming to this over-advertised town. It is part of the program of deterioration. Gridlock is guaranteed on all levels when we keep stuffing more sardines into the can until it pops. No merchant or motel manager in Cannon Beach thinks about fewer sardines. So, what's the answer about parking?. Think entropy.

Sincerely,

-Rex

P.S. Please put out the work that the Perseid meteor shower is here. This might renew interest in dark sky ordinance.

<https://www.inverse.com/science/perseid-meteor-shower-2021-how-to-see-it>

Crow and roses...Crowses?

